L'ARTUSI

ADA NADA WINEMAKER DINNER
JANUARY 31, 2011

Ada Nada is a 4th generation producer in the prestigious Rombone area of the Langhe. The vineyard is now owned by Annalisa, who, along with the help of her husband, Elvio, and her parents, Gian Carlo and Ada, runs the business. From a mere four acres of vines, they produce some of the most elegant examples of Barbaresco that are neither fully modern nor completely traditional, but are always elegant and age worthy. Please join us as we welcome Elvio and compare recent releases with examples from the '90s paired with Chef Gabe Thompson's cuisine.
